Amusements.

Fond's ATRINATUR,—At last we have a temple of Thespis worthy of the matropolis of the nation. Its completion will be halfed with pleasure by those who have as long endured the contracted and illy arranged "establishment" on Eleventh atreet, where all sorts of performances have been held, and all sorts of performances have been held, and all sorts of performances have been held, and all sorts of performances have "fretied their, wild hour upon the stage," and where, to confinus the quotation, we fervently trust they will be "seen no more." The new Theatre, in comparison with the "old box," is magnificent in its proportions, and elegant in its adorments As the matager mays: "All that art and genius could achieve has been done to make it the most beautiful and comfortable place of amusement in the country."

The manager and proprietor, Mr. John T. Ford, is favorably known to our citizens, and it needs no assurance from us to satisfy them that the "Athenneum" will be well worthy of their patronage.

Ford, is favorably known to our citizens, and in needs no assurance from us to satisfy them that the "Atheneum" will be well worthy of their patronage.

Mr. Forrest, the great tragedian, was to have inaugurated the season, but owing to sudden and severe indisposition, his appearance is necessarily postponed. He will, however, appear at an early day. In his stead, for the present, we are to have the beautiful, dashing, and accomplished actress, size Lucille Western, whose fame quite equals that of the celebrated Madama Celeste, and whose performances bear a very favorable comparison with those of the renowned Frenchwoman. The stock company is said to be excellent, embracing many artists well known to fame. We meat heartily commend Mr. Ford to the patronage of our citizens, and hope he will have no cause to regret his enterprise. To the "Old Box" we will say. "Well done, thou old, unseemly, and good-roothing servant; "requisecut in pace."

Cantraneax.—To hight, Mr. George Percival takes a complimentary benefit, which has been tendered him by his friends and professional ansistants. The occasion will be one of extraordinary inducement. Numerous volunteers take part in the entertainment; among them John Boyd and John Landsa. The extravagantly successful company at present employed rentier their choicest acts to-night. Miss Millie Cowler and Miss Julia Mortimer appear in entirely new diversions. In honor of the day, St. Patrick's Donnybrook Fair and numerous Irish morecous are to be presented. Of course, Manager Parcival will receive what his exertions to please the Washington public merit—a full and crowded house.

Henry Robbery-$8,000 Stolen-1 he

Between the hours of one and five o'clock on Saturday morning, the premises of Mr. Joseph H. Hedgaon, on Beventh atreet near H. was entered by burglars. The rascals effected their entrance by forcing open a window in the rear of the building. After getting into the house they proceeded to the second atory front room which Mr. H. occupied as his bed chamber. After riding his panishous pockets of their contents, the burglars in some way or another got hold of the key of the iron safe in the store room below. They unlocked the safe and took therefrom about $8,000, all of which, with the exception of $3.50 in Treasury notes, was in gold, mostly $20 pieces. After obtaining their plunder they decamped without swakening any one in the house.

Afr. Hodgson, upon ascertaining that he had sen robbed, suspicioned his brother-in-law, William Hendley, as one of the parties engaged in the robbery, as he (Hendley) had frequently threatened to ruin him, if possible. Search was immediately commenced for the suspected party, when it was discovered that he had left the city in the early train for Baltimore, and that he was accompanied by a young man named George Leonard. Mr. H. at once secured the services of Detective Officer A. R. Allen, and the two followed in the next train.

They succeeded in arresting the robbers in Baltimore, but was followed by Officer Allen, who tion. Hendley, upon finding that he was deceded, jumped from the train and tried to escape, but was followed by Officer Allen, who tion. P. S.—Just as we go to press, we learn that officer Handley has arrested the woman and recovered about $80. The money stolen amounted to upwards of $8,000 in cash, and near $4,000 in checks and promissory notes—in the aggregate about $13,000.

The party was composed of Major A. V. Eliott, son of Gol. Eliott, Seventy-eighth New York regiment, and Mr. John Kane, of the War Department, formerly private-secretary to Gol. Cameron. Major Eliott had just returned from a preliminary journey, in which he gathered some f.cts which rendered practicable a fortunate result of his search.

The explorers on this occasion were led to the spot by a negro of the neighborhood, who gave particulars of the burnal; and when the party set about exhuming the body they found abundant evidence that they were not deceived. The dothing was to a great exist, and the articles were easily recognized as those of the deceased. The body had been buried with free others, without a coffin, but was easily distinguished by ofroumatances known only to the party in search. It was much decomposed, but the skeleton was recovered entire, and the corpse placed in a box and brought to the city, with the and of some soldiers.—Mr. Kane having an order from Secretary Stadton enjoining all persons in the United States service to aid him by all the means in their power. The body remains in the hands of an undertaker until orders for its disposition shall be received from Hon. Simon Cameron, brother of the deceased.

Probable Murder. Yesterday evening, between six and seven stellock, a case of shooting occurred on Buz zard's l'oint, in the fifth ward, in which a man card's l'out, in the tifth ward, in which a man named Luckett, the keoper of a groggery, shot a soldier belonging to the Ninety-first Pennsyl-vania regiment in the head, inflicting, it is feared, a mortal wound. We did not hear the name of the soldier who was abot. The deed was effected by means of a shot gun. Luckett and his wife were arrested by the provest guard and placed in confinement. The com-pany to which the soldier who was shot be-longed, is stationed on this side of the Long Bridge as a guard.

Mr. Blount very emphatically denied having written that report, or any other report of the proceedings in the Barney case. The persent who gave the gentleman that information was guilty of a falseshood.

Things began to look stormy, and Judge Purcell was obliged to call the gentleman to order, stating that the case must be conducted with leas feeling between the counsel. Dr. Dove, of this city, has received from his brother, the gallant commander of one of the gunboats in Commodore Foote's dest, one of the torpedoes or mamouth bomb shells, or infernal machines, with which the rebels had covered a section of the bed of the Mississippi river, and which were to annibilate the Federal fieet, should it attempt to press them. The "machine" is between two and three feet in length, yo one foot in diameter, and the ends are secured by boits running through the cylinder, and strongly rivetted. At one end is an ingenious apparatus by which the explosive material would be fired when the keels of vessels should strike the wire communicating therewith. This wire was to be held by buoys of zinc of about the same size of the bomb. One of the buoys has also been sent on to Dr. Dove.

As illustrated by past and passing events; and doubtless will be still further illustrated in the future.

1. Washington's Equestrian status (situated in the Circle, western Pennsylvania avenue, facing the East.) indicates liberty, strength, stability and invincibility, which, under God, are our nation's bulwarks.

2. Jeferson's status (in fropt of the President's Mansion, facing the North, he was the framer of the Constitution) denotes that the strength and defence of the Constitution come from the North.

3. Jackson's equestrian status (in la Fayette equare, on the North front of the White Bouse, iscing the West.) indicates that our nation's progress and expansion will be Westward, until the Facilic ocean be her boundary.

4. Washington monument (on the Island, unnished,) proclaims a great country, though incomplete in its strength, majesty and grandeur; will, nevertheless, go on to perfection, and be as enduring as the granite from which the monument is ponstructed.

5. It is a remarkable text that there is no monument pointing towards the South, as though intended to teach us that the permanent future of that region is not yet initiated, and, of course, cannot be symbolized.

Sad Accident.

On Friday, as Mott's battery was returning from Centreville, to their quarters at Cloud's Mills, (near Alexandria,) one of the men, who was neated on a caisaon, was thrown therefrom, by one of the wheels joiting against a stump of a tree. He fell under the wheels, which passed over his breast and legs, crushing him borribly. He was taken into a farm house, and every stiention paid to him, but of ne avail; he did in about an hour after the occurrence. The accident occurred about a mile this side of Fairfax Court House. The deceased was a Prenchman, and had been in service but a short time.

Last night the brick stable owned by Dr. Wm. tastion, situated between Sixth and Four-and-a-half streets, in an alley, was entirely consumed by fire. The stable was occupied by Messra. White, Barbour, and Semmes, merchants. Several horses which were in the stable at the time were rescued from the dames. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Several sots of harness were destroyed. The premises were insured.

Amother.

A stable was discovered on fire on I street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth aircets, in the roar of the regimental quarters of the officers, near Frankin Row. The engine promptly repaired to the scane of destruction, and son extinguished the flames, resulting in little damage to the premises.

Comfederate Sistes Almanac.

The special correspondent of the Cincinnati
Gazette, under date of Nashville, Tenn., March sith save:

Gazete, under date of Nashville, Tenn., March 6th, says:

I found in the hall of the House of Representatives a document so racy that I must be pardoned a brief extract. It is the "Confederate States Almanac, for the year of our Lord 1862, being the second of the Confederate States. Edited by T.C. Summers, D.D., Southern Methodist Publishing House." At the close of this precious document is a list of "memorabilia," in which the reverend editor says, "we have taken great pains to avoid errors." Witness his success. I quote aimest at random:

"July 12.—Fight at Rich Mountain, Va., in which leas than 300 Confederate displayed Spartan valor in opposing over ten times their number, by whom they were overwhelmed. Gen. Garnett was among the killed.

"Sept. 10.—Battle of Carnifax Ferry, Virginia, in which the Federals, under Gen. Rosecrans, were couted by the Confederates, under Gen. Floyd. Among the Federals killed was Col. Lowe.

"Nov. 7.—Battle of Belimont, Missouri, near Columbus, Kentucky, in which the Federals, under Gen. Ogleeby, were routed by Confederates, under Gen. Polk, Cheathum, and Pilow. Confederates lost some 200 killed and wounded, and 26 prisoners; Federals, about 1,000 killed and wounded, and 26 prisoners; Federals, about 1,000 killed and wounded, and 200 prisoners, including Cols. Dougherty and Beaufert, prisoners.

"Nov. 8.—Fight near Piketon, Kentucky, in including Cole. Dougherty and Beaufert, pris-oners.

"Nov. 8.—Fight near Piketon, Kentucky, in which the Federals, under Gen. Nelson, were repulsed by Confedera's auder Col. Williams; the former losing 219 killed and about 150 wounded; the latter 2 killed and 15 wounded." As, of course, the reverend doctor believes this, what can the masses believe?
